Linee guida

1) Graficizzazione

2) Impiego di colori solidi

Le sfumature e i colori speciali, sono difficilmente rappresentabili dalle stampanti comuni rendendone difficile la corretta replicabilità

3) Modularità compositiva

Gli elementi grafici che compongono i marchi e gli impaginati grafici devono seguire un canone compositivo modulare

4) Economia di utilizzo

Incentivare l'utilizzo di elementi compositivi grafici che riducono i costi di riproduzione senza intaccare gli aspetti comunicativi

5) Fattori di riconoscibilità

Inserire elementi di legati alla tradizione del marchio e rivisitandoli in chiave grafica, senza stravolgerne il significato simbolico

The City

Founded in the 6th century, an important trading and political centre in the Middle Ages, Ferrara reached the highest peaks of Renaissance architecture and prestige with the Este family, one of the most enlightened courts of Europe, which hosted the most important scholars, writers and artists of the era. In 1995, UNESCO granted the city World Heritage status as a wonderful example of a city planned in the Renaissance still keeping its historical centre intact.

www.sitiunesco.it

Culture

Over the years, Ferrara has built up an international image as an art and culture city. Its full schedule of events, such as the exhibitions at Palazzo dei Diamanti, attracts visitors from different places and for different interests, every year. Twelve months of art, festivals, music and entertainment, but also fairs, festivals and street markets, which combine culture and high quality tourism in every corner of Ferrara.

Quality of life

The charm of its buildings, its wide linear streets and restful green areas, make Ferrara an admirable example of harmony and urban balance that has been maintained over the centuries. The high quality of life promotes relationships between the city's inhabitants, making Ferrara a very liveable city and easy to enjoy thanks to its numerous services and connections. The territory extends from the plain to the beaches and includes natural sites of rare beauty.

www.provincia.fe.it

History

The University of Ferrara, founded in 1391, is one of the oldest universities in Italy and its departments are located in prestigious historical buildings throughout the city. Its identity is rooted in the historical and cultural tradition that welcomed and formed illustrious figures such as Copernico and Paracelso. In terms of its size, facilities, quality and quantity of education and research, the university is a point of excellence within Italy, which is also shown by its excellent results in international rankings.

www.unife.it/ateneo/unife\_si\_presenta

Education

The University of Ferrara is split into 12 departments and 47 centres, offering over 50 degree courses and numerous research and post-graduate courses. Some facilities are located inside modern buildings, like the Chemistry/Biomedical Centre and the Science/Technology Centre, whereas others are located in ancient prestigious artistic and historical buildings.

www.unife.it/en

Ferrara Campus

There is a strong, not only urban-related, permeation between the city and the surrounding area. The university centres embrace Ferrara in a large single campus and city life is marked by the presence of young people who spill out of the university into the historic town centre. This connection is also expressed through the many cultural and educational initiatives organised by the university. The attractive city and university welcome students as citizens.

Italian Qualification Framework

Italian Qualification Framework

In 2005, the Ministers of Higher Education of the Bologna Process signatory countries decided to develop the Qualifications Framework for the European Higher Education Area - QF for the EHEA.

The Framework comprises the three main cycles of Higher Education, as defined by the Bologna Process, and offers an overview of all qualifications awarded at the end of each cycle, with reference to the number of ECTS credits collected and to the learning outcomes (Dublin Descriptors).

The Qualifications Framework for the European Higher Education Area is aimed at facilitating the correct understanding and comparability of qualifications in the Higher Education systems of each country. A further aim of the Framework is to offer a comprehensive overview of the European teaching and learning system, targeted at students coming from all over the world.

Doctoral School in Life, Health and Environment Sciences

This intends to provide the highest quality education for students deeply committed to a programme of advanced studies in chemical, environmental, biological and health sciences. Its main goal is to produce scientists who have a deep appreciation of the methods for investigating and understanding the living world, and the tools science provides for protecting the environment and improving the quality of human health. At the end of the programme, the students will be able to produce new knowledge by independently planning and developing cutting-edge research in basic or applied science.

Doctoral School in Science and Technology

This aim to form highly qualified professional researchers in one of the following disciplinary branches, which may also include more specific curricula: Physics, Mathematics and Informatics, Earth Sciences, Engineering and Architecture. Over their time in this School PhD students will acquire the expertise needed to develop highly qualified activities in the above-mentioned disciplines, becoming familiar with the scientific method, and learning the principles of deductive logic and the basic knowledge instruments.

The Centre offers: intensive and longer courses for foreign students learning Italian; Academic and professional English Language Courses; Learning materials for self-learning with multimedia support for Italian L2, English, French, Spanish and German with self-access to the laboratory. The "Tandem Project" is a loosely-based learning pathway in which different native speakers meet in pairs to practice and improve their language skills.

Performing arts

The centre of performing arts at Ferrara University, the CTU (Centro Teatro Universitario) is a university service centre that organises workshops and laboratories for theatrical research. The centre is open to everyone who wants to gain a practical knowledge of theatrical languages. The CTU is not a drama school, but a pedagogical and educational experience through a workshop.

The centre offers opportunities for experimentation that are not product-driven but aimed at developing self-expression and creativity through theatrical practices.

University Choir

The University of Ferrara also offers students the opportunity to take part in its historical Choir, which consists of about forty choristers, mainly students, alumni and staff of the University of Ferrara. Since its formation the choir has performed annually as part of the University's Academic Year Opening Celebrations at the University with an exclusively Renaissance repertoire, enriched by some pieces of sacred music and the famous "Gaudeamus igitur", the eternal symbol of university life. In recent years the choir has been invited to take part in festivals and concerts in different regions of Italy.

University Library

The Ferrara Library Centre works in association with the Institute for Artistic, Cultural and Natural Heritage of the Emilia Romagna Region, the University and the Municipality of Ferrara. It is made up of 64 libraries, including the specialist university libraries, who share the same online catalogue, including bibliographic news, ancient books and multimedia material. Some university libraries contain very rare catalogues and digitised manuscripts, hence integrating the education and research opportunities. All the libraries are open all week with full opening times.
